

The cricket season? Or the silly season?

Cricket is a game of two sides. The off side and the on side. The on side is also called the leg side. The on (or leg) side is the side to the batsman's left. Or right, if he is left-handed. The fielding side is made up of eleven players, two of whom are the bowler and the wicket-keeper. The other nine can be either short, long, fine, wide, deep, square, backward, forward or silly. And now, the lbw rule...
